Write a newspaper article about finding a Stone Age tool in your garden.

Include specific, accurate information, with good English. You could include images and/or quotes. Have a look at a newspaper for some inspiration!

Design an attention-grabbing webpage about the Stone Age topic we have studied.

Be creative, use either Microsoft Word or Publisher and include factual information. You could include links to other websites too.

Design and make an exciting game we could play in class that will help us learn more about money.

Think about games that already use money such as monopoly. No gambling please!

Create a leaflet about eating healthily

Use key terms and images to make it informative and eye catching. Remember to give people ideas about which foods are healthy.

Create on plain paper a graffiti design.

Remember that graffiti artists draw on the wall, so stick your piece of paper on the wall and draw standing up.

Get permission from an adult first!

Make a healthy meal using at least 3 vegetables, one protein and one dairy product.

Take lots of pictures so we can see at school what you did and what it looked like when you finished.

Create a poster on the Stone Age.

Use any key terms you have learnt, make it informative and eye catching!

Research into a sport we don't play at school and figure out the scoring system. We suggest Darts, Snooker or Golf.

Write it down so we can read all about it.

Go on www.Transum.org 4 times over the week, for a minimum of 15 minutes each time.

Push yourself – don't just go for the easy times tables!

Listen to four Bob Marley songs and write on a post-it note which song is your favourite and why.

Dancing is essential!

Find 6 words that you don't normally use or know the meaning of in the dictionary and use them in normal conversation.

Make sure you make a note of them for class show and tell.

Practice hitting a ball from 3 meters away and then 5 meters away. How far can you make the ball go?

Unless you have a very big garden we suggest you do this at the park.
