Newsletter

What a week! The Year 6 children have undertaken their SATs tests this week and their determination and resilience has been something to be proud of. The other children in school have been so considerate and moved around school quietly during these tests and adapted well to the changes in the daily timetable. The behaviour of the whole school has made me extremely proud.

Congratulations to Rosa class for a weekly attendance of 100%

Class Achievers

SMART online safety competition

Remember there is still time to enter the SMART online safety rules poster competition. The winning posters for Key Stage 1 and 2 will be posted on the school newsletter and will also be showcased on displays in school. To enter, design an eye-catching poster on A4 paper which explains how to keep yourself safe online using the SMART approach. Please bring entries to Mrs Trenowden by Friday 19th May.

Sensory Garden

Mrs Norgate is hoping to create a sensory garden and would welcome any donations of terracotta garden pots that you might have at home. These would be gratefully received.

Smoking around school

Please remember we are a NO SMOKING site. Please do not smoke or vape around the school grounds. These grounds include the steps outside reception, the paths on the way to the gate and the space outside each gate. Many thanks for your co-operation.

Coronation Celebrations

The children in EYFS celebrated the Coronation of King Charles III on Tuesday. They had lots of fun playing games, creating Coronation themed artwork, decorating cakes and dancing under the disco lights in their party outfits and crowns. What a wonderful way to celebrate this momentous occasion together!

The whole school had a wonderful afternoon, celebrating the Coronation of King Charles III. Private Liam Ross, from the Royal Anglian Regiment, joined us to share his experience. He is a former Edgewood pupil and he spoke about taking part in the procession. The children came together in their houses to watch some of the highlights of the Coronation, played games outside and had an afternoon snack whilst discussing their memories from last weekend.
